FOUNDERS' DAY 2023

Event Guide

IT WAS A

glad May time . . .

FROM Mary

Adelphian founder Mary Evans Glass attended the first national convention of Alpha Delta Phi in 1906 in Macon, Georgia, and shared stories of Wesleyan in 1851. The excerpt below gives her perspective on the story of our founding.

In the Junior class of '51 was Eugenia Tucker, a young woman who by reason of her many graces and gifts was easily an acknowledged leader. Studious, thoughtful, and ambitious, she saw the opening gateway for nobler development and higher culture than was provided in a regular college curriculum, and calling together sixteen girls of congenial tastes, social prestige, and genuine literary merit, she organized what was then known as the Adelphian Society.

It was a glad May time that marked the birthday of an illustrious mother's eldest born—the fairest in face, the richest in promise—her noblest and her best.

The highest standard of scholarship was an open sesame to our ranks, and the basal principle was to find its loftiest expression in the self-forgetful ministry of our motto—We Live for Each Other.

Perhaps it seemed a small beginning when sixteen college girls banded themselves together for the highest culture and noblest development of womanhood, but today, following their multiform lines of usefulness, we see their luxurious lengths stretching away until they promise to girdle our great earthland with a very zone of light. Faith was the field glass which spied out the land, Hope the architect who drew the plan, but Love shall crown the work.

And so, my dear sisters, let us be true to our motto. It will sweeten the happy hopes of youth, enrich the deep, ripe joys of maturer years, and when the Autumn winds shall sweep, and the brown leaves flutter across life's hurrying close, and Winter snows fall thick and fast, we will feel no fear, for there will be light in the evening time.

Constitution of The Adelphean Society.

Art. 1st. This Society shall be called Adelphean, and shall have for its object, the mental, moral, social and domestic improvement of its members.

Art. 2^d. The number of regular members shall be limited to twenty, and shall be chosen as hereafter specified.

Art. 3rd. No young lady will be received on her own personal application, but each at May Commencement shall elect by their intellectual and moral worth - their dignity of character and propriety of deportment; may be proposed by any member, provided in all cases that they have been members of College, at least ^{two} ~~three~~ months. After mature consideration of the claims of such, they may be voted for. If like opposing votes appear, the candidate is rejected, otherwise she is elected. It then becomes the duty of the Secretary to inform her of her appointment. Upon admission a fee of one dollar is required of each member, to be paid into the hands of the Secretary, and appropriated to the purchase of books.

Art. 4th. The officers of the Society shall consist of a President, Secretary, Treasurer and Librarian. The offices of Secretary and Librarian Treasurer combined in the same persons.

Art. 5th. The office of President shall be filled by such as

FOREVER First

THE HISTORY CAMPAIGN FOR ALPHA DELTA PI

Each sister who has joined Alpha Delta Pi since our Founders established The Adelphean Society in 1851 is part of our story. Our goal is to:

- Leave a legacy for generations to come
- Preserve our history and our priceless archival items
- Provide global access for research and social interaction

As we approach our 175th Anniversary in 2026, now is the time to create a state-of-the-art history center and archive to capture and preserve the treasured artifacts, historical documents, stories of sisterhood, and accomplishments of Alpha Delta Pi and our members.

We will provide an interactive opportunity for visitors to explore the history of the oldest secret society for women from 1851 to present day, as well as to understand the experience of women attending college at a time when few had that opportunity.

The Forever First History Campaign will play an integral role in this year's Day of Giving. Join us on May 15, and make a gift in honor of your piece of our collective history.

The story is told that Eugenia Tucker Fitzgerald roomed with Mary Ann DuPont Lines, who became the first President of the Philomathean Society. They were both close friends and active rivals. Looking for support and fellowship, Eugenia and Mary Ann were instrumental in founding secret literary societies on campus. Eugenia and five other Wesleyan students founded the Adelphean Society on May 15, 1851. Mary Ann and two others founded the Philomathean Society on January 4, 1852. Thanks to these nine visionary young women in their mid-teens, generations of Alpha Delta Pi and Phi Mu have found lifelong sisterhood through sorority membership.

SHARE THE VISION!

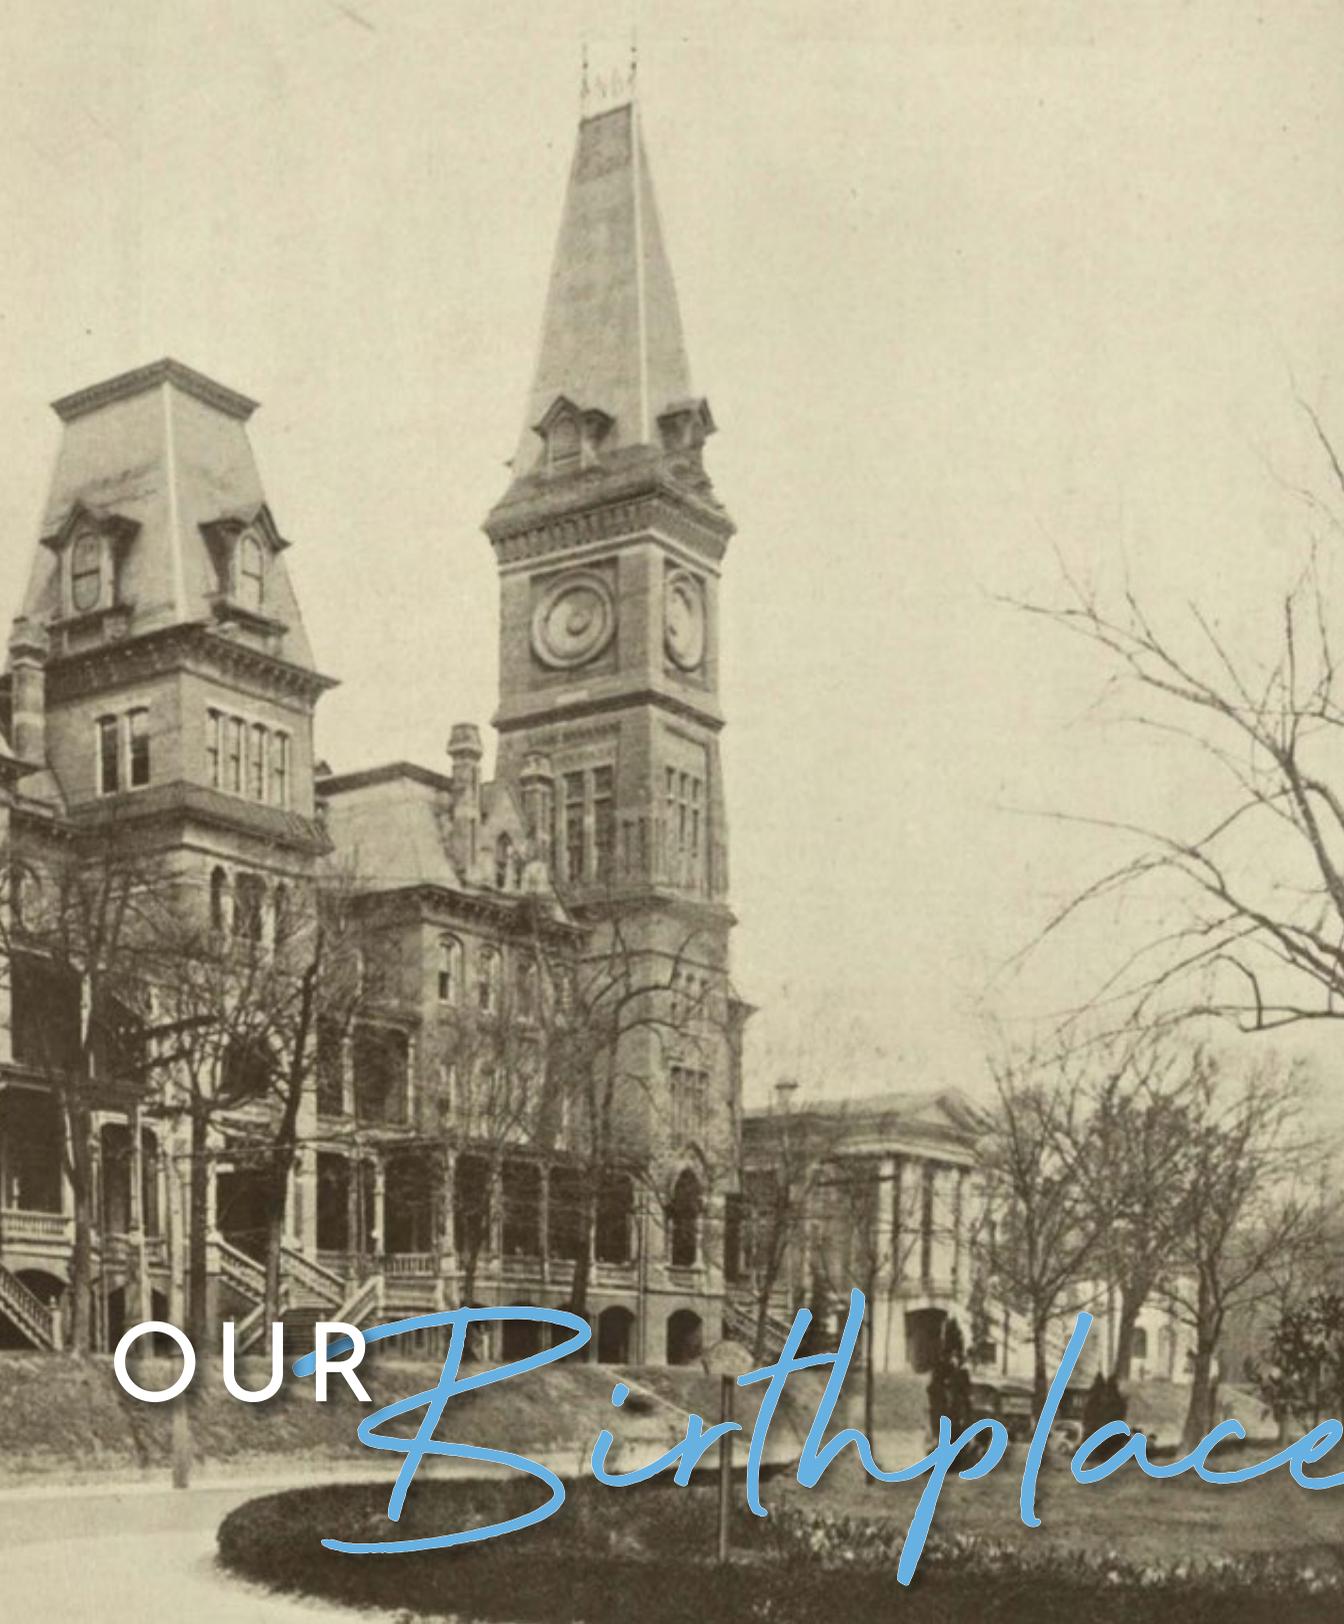

Have you heard about Four Points Napa Valley, Alpha Delta Pi's exclusive wine club? We are especially excited about the spring 2023 release as it is the first time two fraternal organizations have partnered on a wine label. Our Visionary chardonnay shares a name and label with Phi Mu's new wine brand, Les Soeurs Fideles Napa Valley. As the first two secret societies for college women at the first institution chartered to grant college degrees to women, we honor our roots and earliest members for their visionary efforts.

SHARING A

Vision

Wesleyan Female College,

The first college in the world chartered to grant degrees to women, Wesleyan was originally chartered by the Georgia legislature in 1836 as the Georgia Female College. A committee including Bishop James O. Andrew, father of future Adelphean founder Octavia Andrew, and Lovick Pierce, grandfather of founder Ella Pierce, began work on the college's development.

From its earliest days, Wesleyan's history has been intertwined with Alpha Delta Pi's. Wesleyan's first president was George Foster Pierce, father of founder Ella Pierce. His best friend, James E. Evans, father of founder Mary Evans, served on the Board of Trustees for more than forty years. The ranking member of the original Board of Trustees was Bishop James Osgood Andrew, father of founder Octavia Andrew, and Lovick Pierce, Ella's grandfather, was a long-time Trustee and ardent supporter and fundraiser. Edward Myers, who helped the founders write the first Constitution, and Osborne Smith, who suggested the name Adelphean to Eugenia, would both later serve Wesleyan as presidents. William C. Bass, who served as president from 1874 to 1894 was father of Adelphean and prominent Macon alumna Minnie Bass Burden. Alice Culler Cobb, initiated in 1856, served as a Wesleyan faculty member for 30 years. Our second National President, Newel Mason, also taught at Wesleyan as did many other wearers of the diamond, including Grand Council member Helen Glenn, Beta Sigma—Mercer.

With the goal of forming a "society for mutual improvement," seventeen-year-old Eugenia Tucker and five of her closest friends formed The Adelphean Society on May 15, 1851. Eugenia had planned wisely and consulted with Wesleyan president Dr. William H. Ellison, Professor Edward H. Myers, and Reverend Osborne L. Smith telling them of her wishes and intentions to form a Society. After careful consideration, her request was granted, and Professor Myers helped the founders write their Constitution and Bylaws. Article 1 of the Constitution states, "This Society shall be called Adelphean and shall have for its objects the mental, moral, social, and domestic improvement of its members." The Adelphean Society flourished immediately after its founding. Before the end of that school year on July 1, the six founders were joined by 13 other members. The rapid growth was fostered in large part due to the support of the faculty. In addition to the timeless Constitution, the founders selected the native woodland violet as the official flower. They chose colors—azure blue for friendship and white for sincerity and truth. They embraced the motto Eugenia had selected, We Live for Each Other, and they selected the clasped hands as a symbol of friendship.
