

Dear friend
I hope that you'll forgive My long delay in writing you
And take this card as evidence Of unforgetting friendship true

H. love,

July 23, 1990

Is this a scorch of a summer? Noxe Dana, Sam Chau and you are holding up, and the big move is about complete. And you're comfortably resettled by now.

Finally received FOIPA papers on JACL. Have not had chance yet to read all the material. I do have a sense that the "core" of the organization's file has been withheld. After so long a wait, it's a let down!

The Black Lady, who <sup>had</sup> worked on the papers, informed me that if I can show, by submitting evidence, that withheld evidence is already in the public domain, she would be able to review specific requests.
But I'm to submit same within 30 days.

I told her that documents submitted by informers is what I want. Those are the most difficult to pry loose, I'm told; so whether you wish to have me push for more material, I leave this up to you. Just type up a list for me if you wish <sup>to</sup> insist on more.

I've just spoken to Dana. Never realized what a soothing, warm, sexy voice she has.
Glad you've completed the move, and I surely hope you didn't tear a ligament in the process.
A new MD I'm seeing thinks that that is also part of the pain that overwhelms me when I write, type or forget to go easy with right hand and arm.

Tell Frank, Emi that we're all chipping in to get his Report published. Tell him how Walter & I admire him from afar. Like you! Mick Will be immobilized, unable to write, as long as pinched nerves cause muscle spasms through my right shoulder, neck, arm and fingers. Do please forgive me for silence.
