

HISTORY

I would like to preface this photo-booklet by tendering my apologies for having taken so long to realize its completion. Five years did seem like a short time when procrastinating but it has become inexcusably too long when we consider our very short remaining life span. I can only seek your understanding and forgiveness and can hope you can be charitable and sympathetic for my shortcomings. My family has more than prevailed upon me to this end. I am solely to blame and grateful for your patience. Your humble servant and hopefully still your friend—

Bill Sugiyama

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Without the freely provided organizational skills of the wives of the Okole House boys and their friends, this reunion would not have been successful. Jean Sakita, Joyce Satow, Sally Hammanishi, and Yoshiko Sugiyama truly extended themselves developing logistical support and controlling the costs. Jean's offering the hospitality of their new residence with a panoramic view was one of the highlights of the event. George S., Hideo, Satoshi, Tets and George G. used their separate automobiles to coordinate the events. The only hang-ups that occurred were when George S.'s car was locked in the parking garage when we returned late from our trip to Blake Island—we were threatened with "Sleepless in Seattle". A few others got lost trying to find parking at the waterfront and then returning to the hotel that night. The very alert female spouses truly made this an enjoyable and a remarkably safe three days. Special thanks and appreciation is extended to the artist Sally Hamanishi who developed personalized "OKOLE HOUSE" t-shirts. Extreme appreciation to Tadaye Kawasaki for putting her artistic talents in the final cut and paste job to the pictures that I was chicken to screw up.

But none of this would have been possible nor nearly as much fun if it hadn't been for the participation of all of you who made the effort to come out and make this happen! And thank you for all the photographs that you were willing to share. It was really good to see you all and renew our friendships. Okole House began and continues to be lively from its very beginnings and maintains its fun luster. May we never grow old!!! Until the next time!

HISTORY

The Okole House story dates back to the summer of 1942 when Mas Hongo secured from the Tule Lake Housing Authority occupancy of quarters immediately next door to the Block Eight mess hall. The Block Eight mess hall was not completely operational at that time. The purpose was to provide mess service to the hospital dependent personnel. Hongo's end barrack room was occupied by Mas Hongo, John Kashiwabara, Tom Hara, and Hideo Satow when it suited their individual purposes. The male workers of the mess hall sought episodic shelter in the friendly atmosphere provided by Mas. The name Okole House was provided by Mas due to the disheveled condition following the occupancy of the mess crew. The largest membership at that time was from the Placer County and Sacramento areas. The Okole House provided a much needed outlet for the energies and ebullience of the youthful crew. It also provided athletic and social outlets as well as guidance from the older membership. The mix of the members and their interactions provided lasting friendships. The Okole House activities ended with the enforced segregation and separation of the entire interned population in the fall of 1943. The desire to reunite to renew friendships culminated in this reunion in Seattle, WA in 1993. The members had been scattered world wide during the fifty years intervening but were sufficiently settled to make such a reunion a reality. We would like to think that our mutual associations influenced this meeting and helped fan a steady optimism with high hopes that have carried us through this last half century.

ORIGINAL CAST OF CHARACTERS 1942

Any attempts at listing the membership would be incomplete since the ages ranged from nine to thirty years of age. The oldest members could have been John and Harry Nakahara and the youngest could have been Ken Kashiwabara and Arthur Sugiyama.
