Our Thanks

Wednesday's issue of the PIONEER was a day late because of an acute shortage of mimeograph paper. Thanks to the efforts of Reports Officer Joe McClelland and Procurement Officer Alton O. Mead, we have finally obtained a temporary supply.

But we are still not over the hump and until we get our regular supply, we may hold up our editions, cut down on the number of pages, or use smaller paper. In any case, we hope that you will bear with us.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITOR:

Will you please print a notice asking the former Santa Anita residents to notify their publishers and correspondents of their change in address?

With such a tremendous amount of mail handled in this center, it is impossible to have the second class matter forwarded immediately; however, rest assured that it will all be as soon as possible.

THOMAS H. SLICK, CLERK

TO THE EDITOR:

This is to acknowledge with genuine appreciation the receipt of the copies of the Granada PIONEER which all your recent visitors were interested in seeing. Congratulations on getting out so interesting a sheet.

We were deeply impressed by the kindness shown us at the center and the rare courage and initiative of the evacuees whom we met.

How I wish we could be of greater help!

RUTH L. PARKER

RUSTLINGS

FROM OTHER CENTERS

Looking over the relocation center publication roster, we see that--

Tulean Dispatch (Tule Lake) is the only daily, and Press Bulletin (Poston) is published everyday except Monday. The Sentinel (Heart Mountain) and Free Press (Manzanar) are the only linotyped ones.

Other papers include Rohwer Outpost (McGehee, Arkansas), Gila News-Courier (Rivers, Arizona), Jerome Communique (Denson, Arkansas), Minidoka Irrigator (Hunt, Idaho), Topaz Times (Topaz, Utah), and of course, the Granada PIONEER.

Husband vs. wife at the polls when Jerome residents held their election. Candidates for one block were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oyama while Tom Abe vied against the Mrs. Fish scales weighed in the first babies born at the center.

"If Topaz burns, we freeze" was the motto during fire prevention week at the Utah center. Residents are permitted to roam over 18,000 acres from sunrise to sunset.

Supplying the needs of the Army and the WRA will be the huge ceramics plant which will be built at Heart Mountain. Production is expected to start soon.

Thumbnail SKETCHES

His distinction is that of being temporary chief doctor in one of the newest hospitals in the state; his biography reveals that his training and experience more than qualify him for the job; his name, Dr. George Y. Takeyama.

Dr. Takeyama came here on special assignment from the Pomona fair grounds and is one of the few persons from that assembly center. Before induction, he practiced for 18 years in Los Angeles.

He is almost exclusively a California product, having learned, lived, and pursued his profession in the state. He graduated from Los Angeles high school and city college and entered Stanford in 1918, firm in the belief that medicine was his metier.

A short training period as a buck private at Camp Fremont, California, interrupted his study for a short while, but instead of cooling his enthusiasm, the delay only made him more eager to continue his training. He returned to school following the Armistice and received his diploma in 1923, thereby becoming the first nisei doctor to get a medical degree from Stanford and later to pass the California state medical board.

Before establishing an office and residence in Los Angeles, he gained valuable experience for two years as house surgeon at the Saint Joseph infirmary in Houston, Texas.

More than being a doctor, he has found time between calls and office hours to serve as commander of American Legion post 525, president of the Japanese Medical Society of southern California, and chief of staff of the Los Angeles Japanese hospital.

His career has brought him into contact with many people of prominence in California, and it is the friendship that has grown out of casual meetings that he values highly. Dr. George Dexter, commissioner of education in California, General Storey, and Governor Olson are among his friends.

BY TAKIE KUSUNOKI

All the world loves the truly beautiful woman, including the truly beautiful woman.

--St. Clair McKelway

This, they told me, is to be a column FOR and/or OF women, that broad-hipped race of humans than which there is none more mysterious and inconsistent.

So whether you're a fussy puss, a mealy mouse, or one of those mental jobs*, this particular little corner is for you to read--and pan--at will.

We mean it. Any and all suggestions or comments for the future improvement (there'll doubtless be lots of room for it) of this cool-yum will be honestly and truly appreciated.

Kidding aside for the moment and notwithstanding Thomas Decker's curt but classic observation that "women, at best, are bad," this department hereby assumes an obligation to serve in whatever small way it can this center's wimmin-folk.

May we state at the outset our policy, the result of a full five minutes' deliberation and subject to change by you; 'twit, to present as briefly and readably as possible items that may be of interest to our permanent-waved gentry, whether fussy pussies, mealy m---

But that's where we came in. *fp, glamour girl; mm, homely gal; mj, intellectual type.

RYE GRASS PLANTED IN 8E

Long term plans calling for the beautification of the center were revealed by Louis G. Temple, acting landscape architect, when he announced that Block 8E has been selected for the initial cover crop planting of fall rye. This rye will act as a nurse crop in the planting of spring grasses as well as a preventive against dust, he added.

The improvement program calls for block cooperation such as at 8E in the placing of coal boxes on the ends of barracks nearest the mess hall, the erecting of clothes-lines parallel to the backs of barracks, and other regulations which have been enacted for the sake of uniformity.

Ground adjoining units will be left to the tenant to landscape. Though residents should withhold planting until spring, trees can be transplanted during this dormant season, advises Temple who will be glad to speak to groups on the subject.

Fiction Is Most Popular

A close study of the confiscated Japanese books shipped here from Santa Anita was made by translator David Sugimoto of the PIONEER, recently.

He revealed that 70 per cent were fiction, 25 per cent religious, and five per cent of the educational variety. More than 5000 of these books were returned to their respective owners yesterday.

The books from Lerced will be released as soon as inspection is completed, said Sugimoto.

Welcome, Mr. Turk

It seems visitors pop in when you least expect them. Mr. Johnson came into our office last week with an important looking person who turned out to be none other than Mr. Turk, the new recreation director. We hope he'll visit us again when we are more presentable and not in our aprons washing windows.

-Y-

Visitors

And while on the subject, we would like to mention other visitors we have had the last few days. Early Thursday mornin' Miss Esther Briesemeister, an executive of the YWCA, came into Amache from Denver. She visited Poston, Manzanar, and Tule Lake before coming here and hopes to meet most of the girls in her one week stay.

Mrs. Fred North, regional girl reserve secretary, drove in from Rocky Ford three days ago and also plans to stay awhile. The local division of the girl reserves believes that Mrs. Ford will be able to do a great deal to help get them started.

And More Guests

Our guests of last Sunday, Miss Jackson and the four women who accompanied her from Pueblo, must have been impressed with the reception given them and spread the word, or another group of Y women came to see and encourage us. We are glad to know that we have so many friends in Denver, Rocky Ford, and Pueblo.

-Y-

And Friends Too

The Y girls of Poston sent us a letter congratulating us upon our growth and signed by Tsuye Tsukao, Mary Sonoda, Mary Takahash, and Grace Setsuda.

GRID TILTS ON TAP

Weekend games of the two touch football leagues were a shot in the arm for the lagging center sports program.

Up until now the weak response to the first call for team sign ups had painted a gloomy picture of the athletic setup when only 10 teams submitted rosters. But the enthusiastic and polished teams that took the field and the large crowd that watched the play Saturday and Sunday point to a definite increase in sports interest.

Prognostications

Our column just broke into print today, and already we're sticking out our necks to forecast the results of the A league race.

Sebastopol is our bet for the championship. Weight, speed, and experience make them the favorite.

Modesto will press the Ramblers for top honors, but they're too much a one-man team to win over them.

The Kau Kau Lane Zeros were not extended in their one touchdown victory over a weak team and little can be said of their strength. Potentially, they're one of the strongest.

The Merced Yogores, the Amache Rough Riders, and the Pioneer Newshawks make up the rest of the league and figure to end up in that order.

Good Sports

We open this feature of our weekly column with Pete Masuoka, Santa Rosa JC and Analy high football and track letter-man. Pete was appointed high school recreational leader heading the boy's sports activities when Hilton Starr left to seek outside employment. No more qualified a person could have been chosen as Starr's successor. We've seen him many times on the field, and now we see him as a coach guiding the interests of other boys. The best of luck to him.

Star Players To Be Honored

To create interest for the participants, as well as the spectators, the recreation department has announced that at the conclusion of the football season, an all star team will be chosen from the American and National leagues.

Also to be chosen will be the most valuable player of both leagues, the best offensive and defensive players, and the most sportsman-like players and teams.

NEW LOOP STARTS

Pete Masuoka, high school recreation leader, has announced his intention of starting a high school intramural touch football program starting Monday.

Sixteen teams are expected to participate in the tourney.

The Sepol Ramblers will tangle with the Merced Yogores in the initial game starting at 1:30 p.m. Both teams are new entries in the league but Sepol with their sparkling array of stars will enter the contest a decided favorite.

In the second game of the afternoon, the Modesto Skookums and the Kau Kau Lane Zeros, both undefeated in league play will endeavor to keep their slate clean.
