

George Fenwick
Con² V + VI

My Reaction About the War

I don't see why they keep referring to us American citizens as Japs. while Germans and Italians are called Americans. A certain radio commentator who broadcasts Sunday mornings on the "War in the Pacific" said the Japanese did much to hinder operations in Hawaii during Pearl Harbor and signaled and directed the enemy planes. He even said the Americans with Japanese faces committed sabotage. It seems funny to me they haven't written anything in the papers about these Japanese doings these things. An article in a magazine stated the Japanese did much to aid the wounded and homeless in Hawaii after the enemy raised havoc in Pearl Harbor. I wish Dewitt ^{to} state clearly what he means by saying a Jap is always a Jap.

In a way I think it's a good thing we are fighting the Japs across the ocean ^{because} they were preparing for a fight all along, so they sooner or later their pants off the belt it will be. The idea is to get their barbarous minds out of their system.