H-11251 PIACE CHI CHICKEN

As in previous years, a contest for the elimination of fire hazards will conducted as an added incentive to residents in observing Fire Prevention Week, according to Clifford Parker, fire protection officer. This year's cenprotection ter-wide campaign begins Sunday, Oct. 7, and ends Saturday, Oct. 13.

After an inspection tour by the judging committee at the end of Fire Prevention Week, a chicken dinner will be awarded to the winning block in each ward, and a "E" pennant to the second place winner.

Judging will be based on the following points: (1) Removal of rubbish and dry vegetation within the block, (2) Removal of unnecessary combustible material under buildings, and from porches, kitchens, boiler rooms and service buildings. (3) Neatness in arrangement of personal property and general cleanliness of the yards.

At the same time the Fire Department requested local residents to keep these points in mind at all times: (1) In case of fire, call the Fire Department promptly. (2) Know the lo-(cont'd on page 2)

JUSTICE RI-RIEMANK II-E

Registration of all persons whose applications for renunciation of citizenship have been ap roved by the Attorney General now is being started, Ivan Williams, representative of the Department of Justice in Charge of the Immigration and Naturalization Service registration staff now here, announced today.

Notices to all renuncees of the impending registration have been distributed through the block manager's offices, and further notices regarding the time they are directed to appear will be delivered in similar manner to renuncees in each block from time to time. The registration is planned by blocks or groups of blocks, on different days, Williams said.

All persons whose applications for renunciation have been approved will be required to register and receive an alien registration number the s me as aliens born outside the United States, Williams explained, because under the Alien Registration Law of which the Immigration and Naturalization Service is the administrating agency, they now are considered to be aliens. All aliens who reside in the United States are required to carry alien registration certificates, and the present registration of renuncees is purely in compliance with that law, illiams said, for evasion of which penalties are provided through federal court prosecution.

Recognizing that many persons who had hearings have not yet been notified personally whether their applications have been approved, Williams gave assurance that the official Department of Justice list of approved renuncees will be checked in each case, and that no one will be registered whose application has not been approved or has not as yet been acted upon by the Attorney General. All persons who made applications and had hearings should appear, he said. Those whose cases are not settled or whose applications were disapproved will be turned away without registration.

At the same time renuncees will complete the Department of Justice Repatriation Form if they wish to go to Japan. Persons who previously have asked repatriation also will be given opportunity to record that they have changed their minds. The form in use provides for the statement, "I do not wish repatriation," if the registrant desires to make it.

The resistration will be conducted at the Army Processing Building Gate #1.

JUSTICE DEPT. SCHIEDURED TO WIDNESDAY REPLACEARMY

Ivan Williams, representing the Department of Justice, and Lt. Col. John Hazlett, commanding officer of the battalion of military police now stationed at Camp Tulelake, jointly announced Wednesday that Border

F. L. Guy of the general office of the Southern Pacific Company brought to Tule Lake Center this week information that his railroad will have to hire between 1000 and 1500 track and other maintenance workers a month for the next eight or 10 months, and that it desires to recruit at once as many Japanese workers as possible, with 1500 jobs immediately available.

Guy brought with him company recruiters who will remain here as long as residents of Tule Lake express interest in the railroad's job proposition. They explained the situation at Wednesday's meeting of the block managers, and they are available with full information at both the 720 and 7801-A relocation offices.

The railroad men explained that in the next several months it is necessary to replace 13,000 Mexican nationals whose contracts are expiring and who must return to Mexico.

TULEAR AWALTHE. BURGIARY CHARGE TRIAL HE BETURAS

Shigeru Mizumoto, resident of 7505-E, Wednesday was taken to the Modoc County jail in Alturas to await trial on a charge of burglary, the Administration announced.

Mizumoto was arrested on a warrant issued from the office of Charles Lederer, Modoc County district specifically attorney, charging theft last November of an antique clock from a colony mess hall.

The arrest of Mizumoto followed investigation of reports to the Colonial Peace Department on the morning of Sept. 29 of burglary of $22 from the Japanese language school at 508 and of $29.83 from the school at 4908. Footprints found at both places, Internal Security investigators said, led to Mizumoto's apartment. clock was found under the bod, the investigators reported.

TO POTENTIAL RESETTLERS:

2 PROMINENT TULEARS GIVE REPORTS ON TRIPS OUTSIDE

to prominent residents of Tule Lake Center, Masamori Partyana, 707-C, and Frank Furukawa, 1607-D, recently r turned from investigating trips on the outside with information and advice for potential resettlers. Marin was gone a month and each visited widely across the country.

supervisor of Community &ctivities, went to Chicago, It wankee, St. Louis, Denver and Southern Colorado points. He brought lack several pieces of advice gleaned from his trip:

1. After a family has decided in what part of the sountry it wishes to rasettle, the head of the family should go out on short-term leave to arrange housing and make definite plans for employment.

2. Resettlers should not depend on other people to get jobs for them. They should go direct to employers and get jobs for them-

Resettlers need have no fear of adverse senti-

4. If resettlers are leaving by way of Reno bus, they will do well to carry lunch with them because small restaurants at lus stops between Tule Lake and Reno often are unable to feed all the passengers during the time allowed.

Maruyama reported trains were crawded, and that he encountered many servicemen, all of whom were friendly.

While visiting a sister in Chicago he took time to investigate the employment situation.

"Before I reached Chicago I was verrying about the possibility of getting a job," he said, "but after I looked around there and other places I no longer worried about a job---housing became the problem."

He talked with many Chicase burinessmen, who told him that Japanese Americans are considered good workers and that many jobs are open to them.

In Milwaukee he found housing more plentiful and the attitude very friendly:

In St. Louis he talked with the president of the Chamber of Commerce, who offered the pasistance of his organization to Japa- trial workers abound in Thrayema, an assistant portunities for Japanese rvisor of Community &c- in Denver, with what he descrited as a contented group already settled there. Denver and adjacent communities offer employment in dry cleaning establishments, domestic service, fruits, vegetables and lumber.

> Furukawa, a former chairman of the Civic Organization, reports that he experienced two distinct surprises -- outstanding friendliness of servicemon toward himself and all other Japanese trains, and lack of any unfriendly attitude or evidence of ill feeling throughout his trip.

> He visited in Reno, Ogden, Salt Lake City, Omaha, Chicago, Minneapolis, Twin Falls, Portland, and Ontario, Ore.

Ogden is characterized by Furukawa as a boom town, and he expresses the opinion that any Japanese American who is willing work will find opportunity to make good there. Farm and other labor is in demand, and there are a number of Japanese operating their own farms. He reports several restaurants and places of recreation operated by Japanese in Ogden, with community sentiment good.

The attitude of the people of Salt Lake City is friendly, Furukawa says. Not a great many Japanese Americans have resettled there as yet. He believes people experienced in produce and in handling of farm merchandise could do well there.

His report concurs with that of Maruyama on the abundance of employment opportunities in Chicago, with many Japanese already there. He did not find Chicago as favorable as some other places for persons wishing to start their own businesses.

FINAL DEPARTURE PROCEDURES NOW MADE AT GATE#1

All final procedures involved in departure of resettlers now have been concentrated at Gate #1, the Relocation Division announced.

A branch Agent Cashier's office has been set up in the Gate #1 Relocation Office, which obviates the necessity of relocateos going to the finance office in the Administration area for their departure grants. Transportation is arranged through the Leave Office, which is in the Gate #1 Relocation Office, and the Evacuee Property Office, which handles arrangements for transportation of personal property, also is at the Gate wil office.

Internal Security has set up a separate office in the former Army Process ing Station at Gate #1, and all departing on terminal or short-term leaves are being processed there instead of at Internal Security Headquarters as in the past. People going out on 24-hour shopping passes, however, will continue to report to Internal Security Headquarters --- not to the Processing Station.

of living generally lower. Furukawa came back enthusiastic about Ontario, Ore., from both the standpoint of community acceptance and opportunity for work at good wages. Many Japanese Americans are there and without exception they are contented, he reports. Many are farming for selves, and there is an abundance of seasonal work in the growing and harvesting of onions, potatces, prunes, peaches, and other produce. Living costs are low, he found, and housing not hard to find. Hapanese Most of the Japanese who have returned to the Portland area are engaged in hotel operation, Furuknwa reports, with 25 to 30 hotels being under their management.

One of the most pleasant experiences of his trip, he relates, was his visit to the URA office in Portnese Americans in estab- Minneapelis, he found, with land, where he was given lishing themselves there. Wages not as high as some every assistance in his Maruyama found many op- other areas, but the cost investigations.
