The trite and hackneyed phrase "above and beyond the call of duty" is more often associated with military gallantry than with service organizations such as JACL. However, in the past decade of my involvement with JA-CL, I have witnessed over and over again the loyalty, dedication and sacrifices made by our National Director, Mas

This past month, I know for a fact that Mas was putting in many 18 hour and plus days (and nights) and weekends. We sometimes facetiously refer to such over-indulgence to one's work (particularly among ourselves) as "baka majime." Without casting any irresponsibleness on Mas, but more to bear my testimony regarding his unselfish devotion to his work, what we dread happening to those near and dear to us came suddenly and shockingly to us at the Japanese American Research Project meeting in Los Angeles when Mas was stricken with meningitis while on his way to the meeting.

high fever for several days prior to his departure for the meeting, he insisted on attending the important meeting A over the objections of his wife, Chiz. The frantic, demanding and exhaustive pace testival time in that Mas has kept for JACL over the years has been little recognized and sometimes, less appreciated, but nonetheless remarkable in my mind. Of course, this feeling was perhaps just a moment. People, I'm sure, have forgotten but understand it happened. And if this feeling can be sustained then we can continue beyond just history. We can demonstrate against the internment camps in Northern Ireland, the strategic hamlets in South Vietnam and the apparent, contemporary philosophy of American justice which believes you are guilty until proven innocent. From the Frying Pan

THE PAPPY GUY—The papers say Mas Satow is retiring as national director of JACL so it must be true. But the news is hard to believe because Satow has been in the job as long as anyone wants to remember and he remains ageless in his enthusiasm. The thatch on top is just a bit thinner of late, but you sort of expect him to keep going forever.

Satow's experience with organizational work goes back to the '30s in Los Angeles where he was the Pappy guy down at the Niseti YMCA. He was the one who took Nisei youngsters into the Y's various programs starting with the Friendly Indians, kept them busy and somehow instilled in them the moral values that stood them in good stead during a troubled period.

There is no doubt at all that if Satow chose to cast his lot with some national organization he would have moved up the ladder to prominence. He heeded, instead, the call to help out the JACL in those busy, trying days immediately after World War II when Mike Masaoka's persuasive talents were needed in Washington if the organization's program was going to be realize. So Satow agreed to serve for a year, rallying the home front, putting chapters together, establishing the organizational support that Masaoka needed in getting Congress to approve citizenship for the Issei, to approve payment of evacuation claims, to rewrite immigration laws that discriminated on a racial basis. That year stretched on to more than a quarter century of service in the course of which he came to know as many Nisei and Sansei around the country as any man alive.

Our first meeting was in Seattle in 1936 when even in its adolescence JACL was undergoing something of an upheaval. Some young turks from Los Angeles were trying to make the organization a more aggressive, more relevant league and they were seeking to wrest the leadership from the conservative old guard. BEING A CONVENTION CHAIRMAN Satow was in that Los Angeles delegation. The Nisei BEING A CONVENTION CHAIRMAN were largely a shy and inhibited bunch in those days. Satow was the kind of outgoing personality who could MAKES ONE TOLERANT, THANKFUL stand up in front of a crowd and lead a song or a foot- MAKES ONE TOLERANT, THANKFUL ball type yell, or deliver a speech and he made quite an impression on those of us who were inclined to look down and scuff our toes in the dust when someone asked an opinion. That sort of leadership has marked Satow's entire career with JACL and for that the Nisei owe him more than they'll ever realize.

Some of Satow's associates are organizing an ef- criticizing certain JACL con- been meeting regularly to plan fort to do something memorable for him at the conven'ion in Washington, D.C. in June. Convention to Decide New JACL Focus

Come to Where the Action Is'

WASHINGTON-Many JACLers have observed that JACL is at a crossroads in its history. They cite an ever-increasing number of concerned JACL members who are asking the question, "Just what is the future of JACL as an organization?"

The retirement of National Director Mas Satow and Washington Representative Mike Masaoka from JACL executive positions adds further dimension to the question of direction and leadership for JACL in the days and years to come.

Other pressing concerns have been surfacing on the local chapter level, at the district councils, JACL planning commissions, and National Board meetings. Questions posed include,

"Are regional offices with full-time JACL staff in each district set up to service the local chapters the answer to revitalizing JACL?"

"What about the youth program? Is it effective? Is it necessary?"

"How should we best spend JACL funds?" "Should the focus and money of JACL be upon the social needs of our members, the community problems, or upon individual projects?"

JACL appears to be at a crossroads. Many people have many different ideas as to where JACL will go KAZ OSHIKI: MAN KEEN TO GETTING from here. If You Can't Buy Happiness, Rent It. From Auto-Ready Happiness, according to experts in the field, is a new car. For a day or a weekend, a week or longer. But don't take word of the professional pleasure seekers. Find out for yourself. Find your way to Auto-Ready at our convenient downtown location, and pick out a shiny, new, reliable auto. Then find out how foolishly low Auto-Ready's rates are. Find out what real personal service and attention is. Then find yourself behind the wheel of the car or your choice complete with air conditioning and other happiness features. Now you've found yourself. The real, jovial, carefree, devil-may-care you that's just been waiting to get out of you as soon as you got into a new car. You may like being happy so much, next time you'll want to lease a new car. Well, Auto-Ready is ready when you are.
