Josh Believes That I Hate

Josh Pried From Me

if it did, it wouldn't matter.

I Also Discovered That I

If I were to write

A movie what would I write it on?

I like when languages are shown with no subtitles but everyone understands - or then there are subtitles but the main character

Don't speak that language, a device I used a number of times in the CWA. But now that I'm an adult I should probably make a story about growth, change, and redemption.

I like stories about distant fathers who teach their sons that are proud of them but outsiders such as outsiders. I want to write up the CWA, possibly write a film on the only problem is that everyone is open that is to make progress I sink into a Depression, HTS 4120 wanted to write now CWA stories. It feels like when I sit down to write I should just write that the time felt like that for a long time as well - like I couldn't edit anything until I finished it, and because it had transitioned into a daily story it had no enough. Protect should have edit. I often hear that you shouldn't start projects unless you know what it's like when it's finished (m. mm) but that's just not plausible for me.

I wonder if they speak english in Belgium. God I hope so. But they do - They speak english in n/1 er, I guess in all. It seems everyone is constantly moving or creating, making films that bring grand or their story up. I like that stuff but don't want to make something so precise.

How many Anpindel just croon Right afterwards speak? That's scary ~~Anpindel~~ Anpindel!

I ordered a free coffee ^{German} even though I'm a little sick ^{French} and wanted a free orange juice ^(Swedish?) simply to get one of the sick-struck that say "Luthans" - I don't obtain. Little tough objects, I just be careful not to pick up too many "mystery objects" in brasses in case they turn in carrying a tied or some shit.

I liked "in Bruges"
good story, limited sex and characters, no
special efforts to speak at. I want to make a movie like that. W/c that Woody Allen movie
I watched was called should have been similar in feel, but somehow felt very stuck like it was shot on a green screen and the background added in.

174

Luthans kind of like nice united, its star surface so I stuff that under sense.

I find cities fascinating, AK Doesn't really have any cities so its very novel to see so many people all together, how they work, and the way they live.

I mean the same but for a weekend as I do for a week, all I need as "some clothes" & my computer

Is this kind speaking in ranges or simply speaking Dutch?
