Feel I should write something on the first page but I don't have an update or styling tooth thing. I still need to go back & index pg.

Dad says he's gonna mail my ballot to me here in Portland — I tried to get them to send it to me but if he's ready me that then he has it. I wonder if they'll accept it if it has a CA postmark.

Smiled by mech keyboards — really thinking about getting a key switch, testy? Like a flight of keys. Bought a .many Blue keycaps. I just want backlit & mac, how is that hard JPDave: I got back from lunch & they had worried it free! One side one fully loose & the other snapped - there's still a little bit of wire glued to one side.

They are much happier.

was given a fresh box cutter & told that it was mine now - and that I was free to personalize it. I gave it an appropriate design I put on it w/ an eye toward always knowing which corner the blade is going to come out of.

No manuscript is comfy out. is out? or switch & I was seized by this vision of setting up a stream - stream by me playing it. I'm not very big on streaming & there's most fun of interaction but. & it would be costly, I'd need a HD60 & a new mic for at least. which goes out to 400? I think. Which I might be able to swing.
I don't know what I should be paying for or what a full paycheck is.

A Magic spell written in ink from an [iron gall] Fairy Gall

The fairy town was to be ~~Humanised~~ but never threatening.

– As they speak past, the path
collapsed too near the town
The buzzing kills the air. But also music, and laughter, along w/
the sounds of industry, tiny hammers beating on tiny anvils and shells. The song uniform, not the chaotic song of the Peninsula.
// Sounds or song. But any one sung by many voices. The words to him indecipherable,
But it seemed, upbeat.
A work song for a clear task.
A song of ~~cohesion~~ and agreement.

– "We come from ~~the world Beyond~~ nearer"
the woman said quietly in view of fairy their ears.
"I've never heard of that." the fairy said. Her voice it seemed to him came from directly inside her head. almost as if it were one of her own thoughts.

"In the world Beyond". the woman
clarified.
"The human world!" the fairy said
excited
"Yes" the woman said quickly "but we're not fully of there. ~~but~~ as the dish is not fully of the right.
"witches." the fairy said.
This was not a word him knew but as she said it the meaning unfurled her mind. She got an impression of a dark warm room hung w/ instruments of both torture & pleasure. Lit by a hearth, larger than which dominating a giant ~~bubbling~~ pot. Bubbling savagely, and cloaked in the shadow large chair an impression of A woman smoking a pipe, face

The woman neither confirmed nor denied the allegation, but let it ride.

Her taste is pretty dark when thoughts to herself. and the dogs look a lot.

"In that case." the Fury said. Heavily a book from the dock and heavily placing it in the woman's hand "allow me to make you a gift of welcome. one of our finest gall, to write your dark speeks with"

" I couldn't, the gift is too great

" I insist, it would honor me greatly

" Please. let me pay for it

" ~~Your song~~ would be refused. your presence is enough in our humble town

The other night I was obsessed by images of someone using my pocket knife to stab a grocery store manager. I would say whatever I felt he wanted to hear. Racist, xenophobic, hateful things, then get close enough to cut his throat or slash his wrists. This is essentially the love-German WWII fantasy of the sort Jon owns here.

I've been using my Virginia knife & Leather Man a lot here at the beach house (the country club house?) My phone bought. It's nothing into the ground but the studs are on 16 inch centers. Very predictable & easy to put shelves up.

"Clanker" is an interstting one to me because its a slur they made up for a childrens television show.

a slur dehumanizes someone so that you can more easily justify enacting violence upon them, and they are a mainstay of the cinematic langauge of war movies that STAR WARS draws so heavily from, and also real life. Now, why would the writers of CLONE WARS feel the need to dehumanise the battle droids if, as so many of you have pointed out, "droids arent people"? Because We're supposed to root for their destruction by by their nature they're so toothless a threat that eventually feel sort of bad for them, so they had to strip away any nacent hamanity.

Hello!

Sorry I scared you the other day. I was walking back from the grocery store and saw you waving a flag around at a building I've never seen anyone go into or out of, and I thought I'd ask why, but when I realised I'd interrupted you I got embarrassed and went the wrong way. I figured you'd still be ...working on your flag, project, and I could just pass by-but when I passed by you packed up and left. I just assumed you were done, but then you kept going the way I was going, and then when I got to my turn you broke out into a run and I realised how frightening this interaction probably was. I wasn't following you, for the record, I live on oakland. I've seen you, or rather, someone holding a big pink flag, several times since, just in passing, and you always seem to have a teammate, and I worry that I made you scared to go out alone. I did not mean to, and I am sorry. I am still curious about the big flag and why you're waving it for an audience of no one.

Best wishes,

Jacob Earl
