My family

A large, empty circular speech bubble with a small tail pointing towards the bottom right, intended for a child to draw or write about their family.

My community

A large, empty rectangular speech bubble with a small tail pointing towards the bottom right, intended for a child to draw or write about their community.

Outside my house

Inside my house

I always hear my family say these expressions

A collection of seven empty speech bubble templates for writing. There is one large circle bubble on the left, one large rectangle bubble on the top right, one small circle bubble in the center, one medium circle bubble on the right, one large rectangle bubble in the middle, one large rectangle bubble on the bottom left, and one large circle bubble on the bottom right. The page is decorated with faint line drawings of clouds and stars.
