

Romans 8:18-39 | Des Smith

God, Suffering And The Coronavirus

When sorrows come . . .

Could an all-powerful, all-loving God still let us suffer?

Why would an all-powerful, all-loving God still let us suffer?

Because, as a race, we have sinned, and suffering is God's punishment for sin

Four 'buts'

God laments suffering

God knows how we feel

God will bring suffering to an end

God helps us cope with suffering in the meantime

One more reason God lets us suffer

Nothing can separate us from the love of God
